The following essay is about what recycling means to me. The important things are great health, saving money, and stopping global warming. Listen on and I will give you more details about what recycling means to me.

First thing it means is great health. If we recycle it stops air pollution, and it also can reduce the amount of people with allergies or other medical conditions. Secondly, it means we're saving money. It means saving money because it helps us to stop wasting things, and if we stop wasting things we get all the use we can from them. It helps us to save lots of money. Lastly, it means we stop global warming. We don't want to live in a world with global warming, and if we recycle we can reduce the amount of global emissions. These were the most important things that recycling means to me.

This essay was about what recycling means to me. It means great health, saving money, and stopping global warming. I hope you will start to recycle.
